

SYMPOSIUM GOALS

1. Based upon the successes of the 2012 Falls Lake Restoration Project and 2012 Symposium at North Wake Church in Wake Forest, NC (see symposium volume in www.theoecologyjournal.com and click 2012 symposium, we propose to conduct another symposium at Hope Lutheran Church in Wake Forest, NC on Nov. 7-8, 2014. (see agenda below). Proceedings of the symposium will be peer-reviewed and published in the Theoecology Journal.
2. In collaboration with Prof. Bruce Little of the Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Dr. John Baden of the Foundation for Research on Economics and Environment (FREE), Bozeman, Montana and Hope Lutheran Church, GIBS plans to conduct a series of workshops in 2015 and 2016 on topics that lend itself to promote “Environmental Stewardship Ethics (ESE)” that improve restoration of selected ecosystems in North Carolina, enhancing individual and corporate freedom and responsible behavior to prevent the “tragedies of the commons.”

These workshops will include Dr. John Baden, Dr. Boema Prediger and Dr. Rusty Prtichard and Dr. Craig Bartholomew.
